Company Overview

BPI Medical specializes in the repair of surgical and endoscopic equipment for hospitals and surgery centers. Our core competencies lie in the repair and refurbishing of rigid and flexible endoscopes, hand held instruments, and motorized surgical hand pieces.

Our facility is located in the beautiful Pacific Northwest, between Seattle and Tacoma. We have a relaxed work atmosphere while enjoying some of the most beautiful scenery in the world. Within the last month, we have had team members fish for salmon, hike Mt. Rainier, and ride their Harley's throughout the Pacific Northwest region!

BPI offers a competitive wage, a relocation package, a truly open-door friendly work environment, and a benefits package which includes contributions to medical, dental, and vision.

Position Overview

We are currently looking to hire an experienced flexible endoscope repair technician.

An applicant will be considered an experienced flexible endoscope repair technician if they have at least 3 years of verifiable work history with experience regarding the following:

- Various types of flexible endoscopes including gastroscopes, colonoscopes, bronchoscopes, cystoscopes, and ENT scopes.
- Flexible endoscope repair including insertion tube and light guide tube replacement, image bundle and light guide bundle replacement, angulation system rebuilds, objective lens replacements, CCD camera rewire and replacement.
- Flexible endoscope manufacturers including Olympus, Storz, ACMI, and Pentax.
- Endoscope repair companies including Cardinal Health, Olympus, Integrated Medical Systems (IMS), Scope Exchange, Sterilmed, Surgical Optics, Advanced Endoscopy Solutions, Instrument Specialists, Innovative Endoscopy, mobile instrument repair, Surgical Optics, California Endoscopy, Spectrum Surgical, Surgical Direct, OR Express, or Surgical Visions International.

This position requires demonstrable knowledge of repair procedures, use of precision hand-tools, use of precision measuring devices, and quality procedures. This position will operate in a fast-paced, highly dynamic, and deadline driven environment. Due to the medical nature of our services, the adherence to the strictest medical quality guidelines is unrelenting.

As a small company, one which is continually refining its processes, we are looking for the individual that desires to perform in a quality driven, continuous improvement, and lean manufacturing environment.
